FRENCH RECAPTURE FLEURY, HELD FOR MONTH BY GERMANS*Got Quick Results From Offensive Lasting Only Three Days.*VERDUN AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT*Military Critics Declare Initiative Is Rapidly Passing From Germans and That Gauls Will Dominate the Situation; Heavy Fighting Is On.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, via London, Aug. 3.—The village of Fleury, north of Verdun, was recaptured by the Germans this morning. It was officially announced today by the German army headquarters.

PARIS, August 4. Attacking simultaneously from the northwest and from the southwest, French troops yesterday stormed the village of Fleury, three miles north of Verdun, and captured several hundred Germans. In the evening, however, the Germans launched a furious counter-attack and after several violent attempts, succeeded in getting a footing in the southern part of the village. The French today continue to hold the northern section of the place and heavy fighting still is in progress.

Verdun is again in the center of the war stage. The recapture by the French of the village of Fleury, which had been held by the Germans for more than a month, has caused great elation in France. It is the first fruit of the French slow and methodical offensive, begun three days ago, and seems, in the opinion of French military observers, to mark an epoch in the six months battle for the great fortress on the Meuse.

The Germans appear to be less and less capable of operating on their own, and the initiative, in the hands of the French, is about to pass to the French for good.

While the German artillery continues to be as powerful and as well supplied as ever, the Germans no longer are able to gather the masses of troops necessary to repel the benefits of artillery preparation.

It is 20 days since the Germans made their last big attack on the right bank of the Meuse by which they obtained small results at a heavy cost. On the left bank of the Meuse, however, beyond local actions have been attempted by the invaders for a week.

French bomb throwers for a fortnight past, in anticipation of the present offensive, had been creeping forward by the Vignes ravine, west of Froid Terre, with the object of getting near Thiaumont by working around Hill 355.

The bombers first reached the Branc Fleury road. They then separated into two parties, one going to the eastward toward Thiaumont work, and the second pushing northward toward Vacheriauville and Popper Hill.

Last week the first party stormed a redoubt west of Thiaumont and after a stiff fight went beyond that position. The second party reached the little wood of Vacheriauville.

The whole section from Vacheriauville to the approaches of Souville thus were in the hands of the French and the higher commands judged the time ripe to attack from all sides at once.

Attacked from the northwest and the southeast, the Germans in Fleury offered desperate resistance, but the French bayonets finally prevailed. Some Germans managed to escape to the Vaux-le-Chapelle wood, but a majority was taken prisoner.

To sum up, the French in their last three-day offensive regained all the ground that the Germans had taken several weeks to conquer.

They took all the positions for a depth of about a mile from the slopes of Souville fort to the approaches of Hill 320, as well as in the wood east of Vacheriauville and in the Vignes ravine. The French also installed themselves in positions southwest, south and southeast of the famous Thiaumont wood.

PRESIDENT HEARS MEDIATOR'S VIEWS*Told Railroad Situation Is Not Hopeless; Unorganized Employees Appeal to Congress.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, August 4.—Judge William L. Chambers, commissioner of the United States board of mediation and conciliation, conferred with President Wilson today over the threatened strike of 100,000 railroad employees. They discussed every phase of the situation, but Judge Chambers told the President he believed there was nothing formal that the federal government could do until the railroad managers and the representatives of the employees meet again next week after counting of the strike vote has been completed.

Judge Chambers thinks that the situation is not hopeless and that there is still a chance for the employers and employees to reach an agreement. The board of mediation and conciliation expects to be called in should a break appear inevitable.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The Senate Commerce Committee today voted to direct the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate and report to Congress on wages and hours of service of each class of railroad employees because action was deemed advisable pending mediation and arbitration of disputes between the railroads and their employees.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., August 4.—A movement looking to an appeal to Congress for decisive action to prevent a strike on the railroads of the country has been inaugurated by employees on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad. A petition signed by 6,000 representatives of the non-brotherhood men has been circulated in the states of Alabama, Kentucky, Georgia and Tennessee. It sets forth that 20 per cent of the employees representing the brotherhood should not be allowed to throw the 80 per cent out of work, and calls upon Congress to see that trouble is averted.

END MEXICAN MUSS*Withdrawal of Troops Only Matter for Commission to Consider.*REBUFF FOR THE PRESIDENT*Soie Announcing Appointment of Commissioners States They Will Continue Activities to the Mexican Demand for Recalling Pershing.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—General Carranza's reply to the last American note accepting his suggestion for a joint commission to adjust border differences, but proposing a broader scope for the commission's work, was delivered to the State Department today by Elison Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate. It announces the appointment of three Mexican commissioners with instructions to "devote their attention preferably to the solution of the points mentioned in the previous note."

Thus, the de facto government apparently rejects the proposal that the commission consider other questions than the military situation and limits its discussion to the subject originally suggested by Carranza—withdrawal of American troops from Mexico; formulation of a protocol to cover future operations against bandits and investigation of interests which may have promoted border raids.

Whether this will be satisfactory to the United States has not been indicated. The note was in Spanish and when he went to today's Cabinet meeting, Acting Secretary Polk declined to discuss it until an official translation could be made.

President Wilson already has under consideration names suggested for the American commission.

Infantile Paralysis Continues to Gain
Headway in New York.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—More than 1,000 children now have been killed by the epidemic of infantile paralysis and nearly 5,000 have been stricken with the disease. The health department's daily bulletin shows that the plague still continues to gain headway.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 4.—Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, commissioner of health, has under consideration a plan to quarantine this state against children under 16 coming from districts of New York and New Jersey where infantile paralysis is prevalent.

Bad Storm Breaks.
Daylight Turns to Dark as Thunder
Crashes and Hail Pours.

Connellsville was visited by an unusually severe electrical storm this afternoon. Daylight turned to darkness and the rain poured down. The lightning flashes were sharp, and the thunder resembled the discharge of artillery.

Prior to 2 o'clock the day had been clear and very warm. The intense humidity of the atmosphere indicated bad weather was brewing.

Discuss Child Plague
Dr. E. W. Douglas Reads Paper on Infantile Paralysis.

A timely paper on "Anterior Poliomyelitis," commonly known as infantile paralysis, was read before the Fayette County Medical Society at Uniontown last night by Dr. E. W. Douglas of Connellsville. The local physician traced the origin of the plague, its symptoms and possible cure, from data compiled by physicians of the Rockefeller Foundation in New York. The possibility of securing an immunizing vaccine, such as is used to prevent smallpox, was treated at some length and the experiments upon monkeys to develop a cure was outlined.

Dr. J. L. Junk, Dr. E. C. Sherrick, Dr. J. L. Cochran and Dr. E. W. Douglas represented Connellsville at the meeting. About 40 physicians participated in a general discussion of the disease, following the reading of the paper.

Burns' team: H. E. Burns, second; Joe Black, left; Joe Grey, short; Daniel Durie, center; O. F. Hess, first; A. U. Garvin, third; S. Witt, pitcher; R. S. Cooper, right; E. D. Dreyfus, catcher. The losers maintain that they were robbed by the umpire.

A first aid demonstration was given by a team from the power plant composed of O. W. Anderson, J. W. Wilson, C. Lincoln, D. Flannery, F. Smith and G. E. Evans.

Among the Pittsburgh officials present were H. S. Swift, treasurer; J. L. Fritsch, chief engineer; William Fish and R. B. Keating, vice presidents.

The winning contest was won by Miss Margaret Carson and Thomas Williams, both of Connellsville, who danced together. Miss Carson received a silk umbrella and Mr. Williams a fountain pen.

The Wright-Metzler Company again supplied the picnicmakers with plates and ice cream containers, a special stand being set up near the pavilion. The prize winners follow:

Nearly 5,000 persons, it is estimated, attended the second day of the West Penn picnic at Oakford Park yesterday. It was one of the most successful picnics ever conducted by the company since the outings were inaugurated 11 years ago.

The program was the same as that of the first picnic on Tuesday, but the increased attendance caused everything to be done on a bigger scale. The children's carnival, a big success on Tuesday, was doubly so on the second day. The kiddies received hats, parasols, buzzers, toy animals and balloons.

A pretty baby contest gave R. B. Keating, vice president of the company, and G. C. Bell, manager of electric plants, the task of their lives and they were not equal to deciding. They looked the 30 or more little ones over and decided they were all the prettiest and awarded a prize to every one. Each mother also received a box of candy.

A baseball game between teams composed of heads of departments, one captained by H. E. Burns and the other by C. I. Cotton brought into action men who had not had a ball or bat in their hands for years and umpire T. B. Donnelly declares that it was "some game." It is reported officially today that Burns' team won, score 8 to 0.

MOLTEN METAL
SCALDS WORKER*Bucket of Skimmings Is Showered
Over Foreman at the Scottdale Mill.

John Baker, foreman of the laboring department at the American Sheet & Tin Plate Mill at Scottdale, was severely burned yesterday when a bucket of hot skimmings was spilled over him. His overalls were set on fire and he was severely burned about the head, face and back.

Mr. Baker and Edward Dick were emptying the skimmings from a pot of metal from a bucket into a barrel when the bench gave way causing the molten metal to splash over the foreman. Mr. Dick escaped uninjured. The burned man was treated at the mill hospital by Dr. D. L. Griffin and later taken to his home on Spring street. He suffered terribly from the burns.

The skimmings were largely composed of sal ammoniac making the burns all the more painful.

Four Face Mayor
Irrepressible Violinist Goes to Jail for 30 Long Days.

Four jail sentences were handed out by Mayor Marietta this morning. Charles McBride, the irrepressible violinist, got 30 days in the Uniontown bastille. The great musician, at one time musical director at Sipe's Park, was charged with being drunk and a nuisance. The irrepressible one was sleeping on the sidewalk at the time of his arrest, and he soon discovered that his watch had been stolen. Ben Eversley was arrested and the police say that the missing watch was found on him and restored.

Eversley also drew a 30 day sentence and was taken to the county jail along with McBride this morning. Gordon Jones and John Haney were each sentenced to 15 days. They had refused to work on the streets.

Charles Munder was arrested by Patrolman Ruhl yesterday while trying to enter a house on Franklin avenue. He will work two days on the streets.

John Swift of Bullskin township, drunk and disorderly, was given 24 hours in the lockup and ordered to leave town when released.

Take Auto Numbers
Machines Without Rear Lights Spotted
by the Police.

Enforcement of the automobile rules and regulations is going forward without a letup. The latest edict is that all lights must be shown after dark. Most cars display a rear light, but the other night Policeman P. M. Ruhl got the numbers of 38 machines in less than an hour.

It is not expected there will be any arrests for failure to have lights burning, but those whose numbers were taken will be told to see they are burning in the future.

Bruce P. Sterling, the Democrat's leader of Fayette county, was among those whose number went down in Ruhl's little red book.

Off to Glassport
Fifteen Volunteers Leave for the Annual Convention There.

Fifteen Connellsville volunteer firemen left this morning on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie for Glassport to attend the convention of Western Pennsylvania firemen there. This is only the advance guard and the others will follow on August 6. Those leaving this morning will erect the tents and prepare everything before the arrival of the others.

About the same number of men from the South Connellsville department will leave tomorrow morning for Glassport. A number of Connellsville people are expected to attend one or two sessions of the convention.

Concert at Park
Brownfield Band Will be at Shady
Grove on Sunday.

The Brownfield Concert Band will be the attraction at Shady Grove Sunday afternoon and evening for four concerts. It is one of the most promising musical aggregations in the coke region and is composed of 30 instrumentalists. The program will include two overtures, the remainder of the musical menu being made up of ragtime or syncopated melodies.

This band played at Oakford Park three weeks ago and won its way into favor with the audiences from that section. With the exception of the Nirella Band they will have the largest number of players ever in the park for a concert.

Chautauqua Tent Is Here; Tickets Going
Fast, Guarantors Say

The big Chautauqua tent arrived in the city yesterday and was partly erected by the crew last night. The work was completed this morning. The "big top" occupies the abandoned lot at the corner of South Pittsburgh street and Washington avenue.

Interest in the Chautauqua, as is always the case, became greater as the day of opening approached. Guarantors reported that they were disposing of their tickets in good shape.

The guarantors are hopeful that their loss will not be as great as had first been anticipated. Several of them have already disposed of their entire lot at the regular price of $2.

They are not inclined to credit stories of price cutting. While it may be that some of the guarantors lost their nerve and sold a few tickets below the $2 price, most of them are convinced that the demand will be such that it will not be difficult to get full price.

"I believe it would be hard to get a cut-price ticket today," one man said. "Any man who sells his tickets at less than the stipulated price is not only violating his pledge, but harming every fellow guarantor. I'd think a good bit more of a fellow for repudiating his pledge than for cutting prices."

A temporary fire house on the East Side, "within a block of Brimstone Corner," will be recommended to council at a conference by Mr. Pryce. This will be used as quarters for the new hose truck when it is finally accepted from the American La France Fire Engine Company, if satisfactory.

Mr. Pryce would not say just what room he had in view but it was intimated in other circles that the vacant store room in the Wehle building, which has been closed since a fire over a month ago, may be utilized. It is roomy enough and centrally located.

"The public does not recognize the fact," said Mr. Pryce, "that the truck does not belong to us yet. It is still the property of the manufacturers and it will be theirs until it proves entirely satisfactory."

"This fire station problem will work out satisfactorily in time," he concluded.

Captain Lloyd Johnston today offered the city his lot at the corner of Fairview and Carnegie avenues for $3,000. This is said to be amply large for housing the new truck.

HOMESICKNESS IS GETTING GRIP ON THE SOLDIER BOYS

Have No Desire to Become a Part of the Regular Army.

TO CLAMP THE LID ON NEWS

Order is Soon Expected Prohibiting Enlisted Men from Writing for the Home Newspapers; Disallowed Men Getting Free, a Rumor in Camp.

By C. R. Hewick, Staff Correspondent.
CAMP STEWART, El Paso, Aug. 1.—Camp Stewart has now settled down to dull monotony. The leisure of equipment has stopped and the organization of the various departments is at a standstill. It is not known just how to take this, whether it means an early return of the boys or whether the suspension was taken until things are straightened up in regard to married men and college students. An El Paso paper prints a report today of the routine of duty of the soldiers until October 31, but it is not official and does not state what disposition will be made of the men at that time.

It looks to the boys now as if they were to be made a part of the regular army and held there indefinitely and there is much dissatisfaction as a result. The boys state that they felt their country needed them in an emergency and that they were willing to respond to such a call, but that regular army life doesn't appeal to them in the least and feel that they ought to be sent home if there is no immediate need for their services.

It is understood that General Bliss and General Clements are personally questioning the men in regard to their satisfaction with life here and recommending discharge to those who are not satisfied. This report has not been verified as the inspection of the Tenth does not begin until the latter part of the week. There have been considerable applications of married men in the Tenth for releases, but the proper blanks have not yet been received. One 15 day leave of absence has been granted to Charles Frant whose mother is ill at Altoona.

An order came in this morning which has not yet been put out prohibiting enlisted men from corresponding with home papers. The claim is made that erroneous reports have been sent out about conditions here and only the regular correspondents not collected are to be permitted to furnish news. The various correspondents are wondering just what effect it will have on personal letters. But until the orders are posted things will go on as they are.

Company D boys had a mountain hunt the other evening and although their game was not as large as expected they brought it down all right. Early in the evening sounds emanating from the vicinity of the mountain aroused the anxiety of the boys. They finally decided it must be a mountain lion which are reported to inhabit the mountains here. Armed with guns and bayonets, picks and shovels, they started after the animal. They followed the animal for some distance and came upon a small stagnant pond, and as the animal was near they prepared for the charge. After a leader brave enough had been secured they charged and by the aid of a flash light faced the enemy. It proved to be a large bullfrog, but the boys all say they never heard one in Pennsylvania with a voice like that one.

We had a very heavy rain here Sunday and the water ran down the mountain side and for a time it was thought our camp would be flooded. Some of the tents were filled with water to a depth of six to eight inches, but these were at the extreme end of the line and were used for guard and post houses. The water streamed through camp for a while but was just a little short of a genuine flood. Some of the boys had started out for a mountain climb and they were drenched to the skin. Residents say this whole place is flooded during heavy rains at times.

Several hundred new army trucks arrived yesterday and are being placed in service. They are to be used both to transport men and munitions and are ideal for the purpose.

The past few days the weather has been moderately cool and the nights have actually been cold. The rains "always cool" the atmosphere, but this has been the most pleasant weather we have been in Texas. Today promises to be a scorcher, however.

Colonel L. P. McCormick sent the boys a nice box of cigarettes and he is a popular man in camp today. The boys all appreciate the favor and know the heart of the colonel is with them.

Major Joe Thompson and Major R. S. McKee last night challenged the champions of the hospital corps, Buck Smith and Percy Shepertz to a game of horseshoes, and would have won had Major Thompson had a little more time to coach Major McKee. Horseshoes is about the only amusement in camp outside of cards.

The pay received Saturday, the first in camp, evened things up for a day or two but was not very large, only for the part of June in camp. The pay roll has been signed for the pay for the month of July and it is expected they will get another one about Saturday.

The boys of Company D and the hospital corps are all well but are anxious to get back home as soon as possible.

The boys pulled on Chief Washburn of Company E yesterday. It was the old stunt of electing a third lieutenant and the chief, although he has been in the guard for some time, fell for it. The idea was conveyed to the chief that by a new order a third lieutenant was necessary. Frank Carbaugh was the other candidate, but he was wise. The boys spent the afternoon electioneering and the election was conducted by John Kennedy.

Politicians Pain and Hostetter worked hard all day and in the evening Chief was induced to make a speech to which he promised the boys a good feed if he was elected. Chief won out but Carbaugh fought and finally Washburn got wise it was a joke. Nobody wants to mention it today.

Morroe Lehr wrote his girl that he had been appointed kitchen police and he replied, prevailing upon him not to be too hard on the boys as he was once a private. The duties of the kitchen police is to see that things are kept clean there.

Mike Kelly has been chosen as orderly both times the Mount Pleasant boys have had charge of guard duty.

Captain Zundell certainly cherishes these letters from home. They are his chief delight here.

"Cokey" Pruberg had to go to the dentist again yesterday. He has about worked that excuse to death now.

The boys think Corporal Roy H. McClark looks like the real thing when he starts out with his squad for drill.

Arty Brown says about the only thing he missed in his Cadillac.

Clinton and George Crosby yesterday received a big box of cake. Looked like a trunk.

William Long and Thomas Court are running neck and neck in the race for letters. Eddie Byrne also receives a special delivery every day.

Lieutenants F. O. Stillwagon and W. C. Stevenson are sure two good looking officers when they get fixed up in their dress togs.

An El Paso young lady gave a dance for half a dozen of the Mount Pleasant boys at her home the other evening. Crosby Thompson was the guest of honor.

Harry Keller has received the position of rejuvenated stable sergeant.

There was not a Mount Pleasant boy at sick call this morning. Some record that.

MILK AND ICE WANTED.

First Appeal for Aid is Made Through the Salvation Army.

The first application for free milk and ice was made this morning. The committee of the Woman's Culture Club, which has charge of the distribution, has had a large sum of money on hand for the purpose for some time but there seemed to be no need for the free milk and ice.

One family has now asked for relief, applying through Captain Phelps of the Salvation Army for the hot weather necessities.

MAY BUY TOLL ROAD

Westmoreland Likely to Free the Mt. Pleasant-Duquesne Pike.

Westmoreland county commissioners are soon to take over the Mount Pleasant-Duquesne toll road, it is said, and thus free to the public a much used highway. The company owning the road is said to have made a nice little pile of money out of it and an agreement as to the purchase price will likely be reached.

The road is used by many who take that route to reach the Indian Creek valley.

Just the Thing for Diarrhea.
"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhea which lasted over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. Cloyd Pelling of Pittsburg entertained yesterday afternoon at Heart's Delight at Guard, Md., in honor of Mrs. Edward Hart, her sister-in-law and a recent bride. The affair was in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon, followed by cards in the afternoon. Mrs. Bruce Lichty of Meyer'sdale was the prize winner. At 5:30 refreshments were served. The decorations were beautiful, field lilies predominating. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Bruce Lichty, Mrs. Frank M. Thomas, Mrs. Dan Getty, Meyer'sdale; Mrs. G. C. Keller, Grantville; Mrs. Carrie Puzos, Somersfield; Mrs. Charles Work, Mrs. Arthur P. Freed, Mrs. Benah Maxwell, Miss Margaret Joan Boye, Miss Margaret Herpich, Mrs. G. W. Callagher, Miss Sarah Gallagher, Miss Ruth Hughes, Mrs. Ralph Buttermore of Connelville and Mrs. Jasper Pike and Miss Julia Liston of Guard.

The Salvation Army will hold interesting services on August 13 and 20. On Sunday the 13, Adjutant and Mrs. Johnson and daughter of Pittsburg will be here and will conduct both the open air and indoor meetings. All three are said to be accomplished musicians. On August 20, Ensign and Mrs. Charles Story of Pittsburg will hold services here.

Miss Cora Pierce of South Connelville became the bride of Arnold Daughman of Merrell on last Wednesday at 5 o'clock. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. J. Everhart of the United Presbyterian Church, was at the home of Mrs. James O'Neill at South Connelville. The bride's gown was of blue tulle and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Members of the families were present, and a wedding dinner followed the marriage. Mr. Daughman is a young business man, owning stores at Merrell and South Connelville. The young couple will make their home in the latter place.

The Pythian Sisters will hold their picnic on August 9 at Shady Grove. The temples of Uniontown and Connelville will participate. Mrs. Patricia of Percy is general chairman for the affair.

The ninth annual reunion of the Matthews families will be held at Shady Grove August 23. Omar Wood of Connelville is president of the organization. D. W. McDonald and George B. Jeffries of Uniontown and John Hannan of Indiana will be the speakers.

Sixty little guests were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon from 2 to 7 o'clock by Misses Josephine and Catherine Hurry, in honor of Michael Hurley Lellen. They were taken to the Harry farm in hay wagons. Games were played on the lawn, and the lunch was served on the large porch.

START PAVING HILL
Contractors, Expect to Make Quick Work With Apple Street.
Contractors Duggan & Miller this morning put a force of men at work on Apple street, which is to be paved. It will be necessary to level up the foundation, which was badly washed by Monday night's thunderstorm, so this will not take a great length of time.
The contractors were unable to get bricks on the street and for this reason have held up. The bricks have now been placed and rapid progress is anticipated.
Street Commissioner William McCormick said today that it cost the city less than $100 to grade the Apple street hill. The chain gang did most of the work.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 4, 1916.

WHAT THE DIFFERENTIAL MEANS.

Expressed concretely the removal of the 15-cent coal freight differential which now prevails against the Conneltsville coke region, means that each acre of coal now mined will have approximately $1,500 added to its value to the operating owner. Applying this computation to the 20,000 acres, estimated to be the unmined content of the holdings of the merchant operators, the value of the region's deposits will be enhanced $30,000,000 in the aggregate.

Striking as this estimate appears, it does not fully reveal the advantages to be gained by the removal of the handicap which now prevents the operators of the Conneltsville region from entering the by-product coal trade on an even basis with operators in the immediately adjacent districts.

While the growth of the by-product coke industry has made certain and definite inroads into the business of the producers of beehive oven coke, the invasion has actually not had as noticeable effect upon the trade as it might have had, and as it will have, under different conditions. The high pressure activity in the iron and steel industries has resulted in a coke consumption which has been in excess of that of any previous year. Speculating, by and large, it may be stated that without the tonnage provided by the by-product plants, the beehive ovens running at maximum capacity could have met furnace requirements.

When the close of the European war returns the iron and steel trade to normal conditions, the rate of production in these industries will be very much smaller than those experienced in the new high records of the current year. In proportion as the present iron producing capacity may be reduced the demand for furnace coke will fall off. When that point is reached in the operation of the furnaces owned by-product coke plants, now built or building, where the output will be sufficient to fill furnace needs, the market for furnace coke will be in all probability close to the beehive producers. Unless trade in other lines shall have been built up meantime, the demands upon the Conneltsville region for coke will be confined to rather narrow limitations. It is at such time the coal markets except under the incubus of the 15-cent differential, the coal trade will build up is not likely to be of as great volume or great value, certainly not as profitable as the coke trade preempted by the product ovens.

Whatever may transpire to curtail the demand upon the Conneltsville region, either as a producer of coal or of coke, will prolong its economic life by the same token there will be a prolongation of the period during which taxes must be paid and interest upon investment carried as a charge against production. Hence the impossibility of approaching that operating ideal of quick exhaustion of coal deposit through maximum daily output and at minimum cost of production.

When, or if, the condition arises that the Conneltsville operators are without markets for furnace coke, and without the advantage of equitable freight rates on coal, they will be forced either to sacrifice the region's product in the competitive raw coal markets, or to limit the operation of their plants to producing coke for such trade as may remain after the furnaces become able to produce their own coke.

Considered in the light of such a contingency the re-districting of the freight zones so that the Conneltsville region operators will be at equal advantage with their neighbors in the coal markets, means, in the final analysis, more than the amount represented by the present differential. It involves the whole problem of the profitable continuance of the Conneltsville region operators as factors in the fueling industry.

It is not too much to say that the fight of the Conneltsville coke operators for the Pittsburgh coal rate is a fight for life which must and no doubt will be fought to the last ditch.

PRISON LABOR ON ROADS.

In these days of active union labor sentiment legislation having to do with prison labor is approached with caution by law-makers who are politicians first and statesmen afterwards. This combined with the old-fashioned notion that a man was sent to jail as a punishment and should be kept there like a criminal served for many years to successfully discourage the notion of working prisoners on public roads. The final enactment of a law permitting the employment of prison labor on the public roads under certain conditions has been followed by uncertainty as to its practicability. The experiences of Westmoreland county have been gratifying. The law may need some minor changes, but it seems to be right in principle and to reach the end sought with safety. The Pittsburgh Dispatch says concerning it:

"The success of the experiment in working prisoners in the Westmoreland county jail on the highways, under the act passed by the last Legislature, will doubtless encourage wider adoption of the plan. The act was carefully framed to avoid features objectionable either to the jail inmates or to skilled labor. Employment on the roads must be voluntary and in no case compulsory. No stripes or distinguishing marks signifying the workers as prisoners are permitted. The labor performed cannot be that usually assigned to skilled labor. The pay is 25 cents a day, which may be held for the release of the prisoner or given to aid in the support of his dependents.

"The act excepts prisoners under death sentence and, of course, the discretion of the warden will see that no prisoners held for a serious offense is given opportunity to attempt escape. But for minor offenders road work offers healthful employment in the open, better food, pay, and the possibility of increased good time, allowance. The whole aim of the act is reformatory, to give men another chance, and at the same time, to save them from the debilitating effects of imprisonment.

"According to the terms of the law, the State Highway Department may requisition prisoners for work on state roads, County Commissioners on county roads, Township Commissioners on township roads and Mayors or Burgessees on streets, the work to be paid for by the body for which it is done, state, county, city or borough. Westmoreland has found that the prisoners are anxious for selection for road work, although at first, through misunderstanding, afraid of it. No difficulty has been experienced controlling the men and the work they have done has been pronounced excellent. The possibilities of the act in its widest application would give the state many miles of improved roads. There would be no public degradation involved since no passerby would know whether the men were prisoners or road workers. The community, the prisoner and his family would all benefit."

DIRECT-TO-DUNBAR.

The Direct-to-Dunbar proposition has developed great strength in this section. Over 1,000 citizens of Conneltsville, South Conneltsville, Dunbar and Dunbar township have joined in a petition for the establishment of the route and the construction of a county bridge over the Youghiogheeny river at South Conneltsville. The county viewers will view and report to the September term of court.

It is up to the friends of the proposition to see that this report is favorable. To this end there should be an organized effort to promote the improvement. Able counsel should be employed to represent the public interest and an active committee should aid in developing such testimony on the matter at issue as may be deemed proper to present at the view or any subsequent hearings which may be held.

The Direct-to-Dunbar movement is a matter of direct and vital interest to Conneltsville and South Conneltsville. It means not only a direct route to Dunbar, but it means cheap and easy communication with what promises to become one of the greatest industrial suburbs of this community.

The West Side is just now first station quarters for the whole city. The most serious objection to this is contained in a substantial penalty in insurance rates which will have to be paid by the valuable property in the business center of the city unless this matter is soon remedied. The business men and large property owners of the city are interested in the location of the new fire station for strictly business reasons. They want it on the East Side as near to the center of big business as it can be placed.

The people are making it hot for the ice man forgetful of the fact that the hotter it is the better the ice man likes it.

Carrie Call, President of the National Woman Suffrage Association, is the original Pussfoot. Gumbo Bill Stone was only a cheap imitation.

"To save his party, not his country," is the reason the Democrats are giving for the nomination of Hughes. Perhaps the Republicans want to save their party and the country at the same time. There is not such satisfaction in administering to an ungrateful country.

The title to railroad right of way which has never been accepted should be viewed with a jealous eye. The public have some rights too, even if they are only moral rights.

The coal operators of West Virginia and Kentucky fear a coal shortage. The Pittsburgh region has felt such a shortage all summer, and the Conneltsville region has not always been able to get enough coal to fill all its orders for either coal or coke. The Southern operators have nothing on us.

President Wilson is watchfully waiting a development in the threatened railroad strike which he threatens to intervene in case of tip. In the meantime the railmen are making it as plain as possible that they desire to settle their own affairs in their own way. The public will prefer that kind of a settlement.

The guardsmen on the Mexican border are undergoing another medical examination and those with unsound feet will be told to hit the trail for home. They will not be compelled to walk, and they may go first-class, if they like the price.

The Lady Macbeths who get married will have to be satisfied with their husbands. The organization cannot afford to make any more wedding presents.

Rain is grateful, but cloudbursts are too much of a good thing.

The ice man is speaking in the color tones of monopoly.

The ice company complains that it never makes any money. Perhaps this business ought to be taken over by a community club.

"The coke trade is still sound in wind and bottom."

It looks as if the by-product coke plants did not come too soon though it remains to be seen whether they have not come too unwelcome.

The cook stove which promises to heat the whole house for 3 per month is undertaking a big contract, and it will have the hearty sympathy of the public.

The Federal Trade Commissioner Hurley says the coal operators of the country are inefficient. They are also unfortunate at times in having more coal to sell than demand for the same. In this respect they resemble the Conneltsville coke operators.

The bottom seems to be dropping out of oil prices. Who pulled the plug?

CHURCH-GOING

Church-going is an old-fashioned habit which would be more useful if it had the long wavy roots of the alfalfa plant. The trouble with so much modern church-going is that it doesn't strike deep enough to get people out to the divine service on a rainy Sunday while the golf links and the ball game will drag them from home in the face of a cloudburst.

Years ago one of the most popular ways of spending Sunday was to go to church and listen to a sermon with a main spring longer than a Washington watch. Nobody stayed away from church on Sunday morning unless he was totally paralyzed or the church had been burned down by the riot before. In those days church-going was a duty which nobody could shirk unless he had contracted diphtheria, both terms and as a result the minister was not obliged to look into the faces of cold, empty pews and yawning profiles, as is so often the case today.

There was a great deal of whole-souled church-going in this country up to the time when the installment-plan automobile rump above the surrounding scenery began to consume gasoline, tires and storage batteries in rank profusion. There is something about an automobile which tempts a man's mind from the church and everything else except the quest of upkick after an active church-goer has owned an automobile for a few weeks and come in contact with the money and comfort of a new car. He will be in no frame of mind to go to church and greet the semi-annual missionary collection. He will be more inclined to settle to some quiet work and find his check stubs with a trembling hand.

Although every inducement is being Laid out to increase church-going, it is not necessary to resort to such an advance. The church attendant is now offered filled music by a determined choir quartet and the women have been hauled down until it is a mere skeleton of the old-time discourses with self-winding attachment. In the evening there are free motion pictures and a cornet solo and yet people prefer to stay away, and listen to the music of a cranking church.

The golf links drag them from home in the face of a cloudburst.

If people would do their job-ridding after the morning service they would be better prepared to meet the shifting center of life, especially when they shift from an open ditch at forty-five miles an hour.

BRITONS FORM A HUGE COAL TRUST

Lord Rhonda, better known in U. S. as D. A. Thomas, brings big Acreage into Combine.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The greatest coal combine known to the United Kingdom has just been effected by Lord Rhonda, better known to Americans as D. A. Thomas, the Welsh coal magnate. He has brought into the Cambrian Combine, of which he is managing director, between 3,500 and 4,000 acres of the richest portion of the South Wales coal fields belonging to D. Davis & Sons, Ltd. The deal involves the transfer of the collection of the Welsh Navigation Steam Coal Company, Ltd., acquired three years ago by Davis & Sons for $1,574,350. The combine places Lord Rhonda at the head of an organization with a capital of $17,765,570.

Public interest has been so much concentrated in the war that outside business and financial circles, practically no interest has been taken in the gigantic effect of the deal. It is that the Consolidated Cambrian Combine controls now all of the fields producing the renowned steam coal which has contributed so much to the supremacy of the British mercantile marine and which has been sold to constitute the life of the British Navy. It is said that there is no coal in the world with a higher reputation for bunkering purposes, and that more record runs by ocean craft between New York and Liverpool have been made with this coal than with any other.

Details of the deal are not available, but it is understood that the market value of the shares of D. Davis & Sons, Ltd., have appreciated in value recently from $7,078,125 to $10,040,625.

The great combine will have an annual output of 6,000,000 tons.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"SOWING THE WIND," the two part drama of Pathé's "Who's Gilty?"
series now showing at the Soisson Theatre, depicts the evil of judgment too quickly formed. Two brothers work for the same man and both love his daughter. Some bonds are misplaced and the one she loves is blamed for stealing. See this interesting drama and judge for yourself who's guilty. "A Midwinter Madness," a Bison two reel drama featuring Dorothy Phillips. It is an interesting drama of the north and contains some pretty snow scenes. "The Social Slave," a Laemmle drama with Robert Wilson, tells of a business man who, burdened with an un-pathetic, false and extravagant wife, loves his stenographer and determines to marry her. "She Was Some Vamppire," is a Joker comedy with Gale
Henry and she sure is some vampire.
Tomorrow the World Film presents
Curlye Blackwell and Ethel Clayton in the five reel drama, "His Brother's Wife."

PARAMOUNT THEATRE.

"ALIEN SOULS"—Seaside Hayakawa, the renowned Japanese star, is featured at the Paramount today in a Paramount photoplay, "Alien Souls."
This Lusty picture is conspicuous for many of the excellent Lusty characteristics, such as lightning effects, atmosphere, attention to detail and above all things, beauty. The story is not only interesting and original, but it is exceedingly well told and together calculated to awaken both the interest and the sympathy of the audience. As in the other great production, "The Cheat," the settings of Japanese interiors and exteriors are of singular charm and beauty. The theme tells of the childish folly of a pretty Japanese maiden who, though betrothed to one of her own race, longs for recognition from white audacity. She is altogether guileless and is easily deceived by the pretensions of an impetuous adventurer who makes love to her and offers to marry her. Her Japanese lover, splendidly appeals to her loyalty. The little girl is infatuated and is about to fall into the snare prepared by the wily adventurer when at the last moment her poverty is revealed. Her white lover, who had hoped to recoup himself with the girl's supposed great fortune, loses all further interest in her. She feels disgraced beyond all hope and, acting up to the traditions of her country, she seeks to destroy herself. From this point the play goes swiftly on and at last comes to a happy ending.
Tomorrow, William S. Hart appears in "The Apostle of Vengeance," produced by Thomas H. Ince, and Ford Sterling stars in a Keystone comedy, "The Snow Cure."

Beyond the Frontier

By RANDALL PARRISH

A Romance of Early Days in the Middle West

Author of "Kelt of the Border," "My Lady of Doubt," "The Maid of the Forest," etc.

I would not say that Cassion purposely kept us apart, for the arrangement might have been the same had I not been of the party, yet the only communication between the two divisions occurred when some messenger brought back word of the house on the water ahead. Usually this messenger was an Indian, but once D'Artigny himself came and guided me across through a forest of willow, saguaro, water and a maze of mud-suckers. During these days and weeks Cassion treated us with consideration and outward respect. Not that he failed to talk freely, and to boast of his exploits and adventures yet to refrain from laying hard on me, nor did he once refer to the luckiest of the bluff.

Nor was the journey lacking in interest or adventure. No or shall I forget the charm of those days and nights, amid which we made slow and toilsome passage through the desolate wilderness, ever gaining new longings to the westward. Only twice in weeks did we encounter human beings—once a camp of Indians on the shore of a lake, and once a Capuchin monk alone but for a single voyager as companion, passed us upon the river. And when at last we made the long portage, taking through the dark forest, heavy loads, scarcely able to see the sun even at midday through the heavy screen of leaves, and came forth at twilight on the shore of the mighty lake, no words can express the raptures with which I stood and gazed across that expanse of braving, rest less water. The men in the canoes upon the surface and made camp in the edge of the forest, but I could not more could not restrain myself, until darkness descended and left all before me a void.

It was scarcely more than daybreak when we broke camp and I headed our canoe out into the lake. With the dawn and the glint of sunlight over the waters, much of my dread departed, and I could appreciate the wild song of delight with which our Indian paddlers beat to their work. The sharp-pointed canoes swept through the waters swiftly, and loitered butting against a current, and the shore line ever in view was fluctuating in its green foliage. We kept close to the northern shore, and soon found passage amid numerous islands forest covered, but with a rocky outline.

For four days we coasted thus, never out of sight of shore, and usually with islands between us and the main body of water. In all that time we had no sign of man—not even a wisp of smoke, nor heard the crack of distant rifle. About us extended loneliness and desolation, great waters never still, vast forests grim and somber, tall, menacing rocks, bright colored in the sun.

As I left the chain of islands behind and one morning struck out from the shore into the wide waters, the shore line was no more. The water was a vast, unbroken expanse, and the only sound was the splash of the oars and the hum of the wind.

Nor was our welcome one to make the heart rejoice. Scarcely a dozen persons gathered at the beach to aid us in making landing, rough enough, however, and not among them all a fair family. It was only later, when two priests from the mission came hurrying forward that we were greeted by cordial speech. These invited a few of us to become guests at the mission house, and assigned the remainder of our party to vacant beds.

Cassion, Chevret and Pere Allouez accompanied me as I walked down a young priest up the beaten path, but D'Artigny was left behind with the men. I overheard Cassion order him to remain, but he added some word in lower voice which brought a flash of anger into the younger man's face, although he merely turned on his heel without reply.

We remained at St Ignace three days busily engaged in repairing our canoes and rest and then at for the long voyage yet before us. From this point we were to venture on treacherous waters, as yet scarcely explored, the shores inhabited by savage, unknown tribes, with not a white man in all the long distance from Green Bay to the Chicago portage. Once I got out the map and traced the distance feeling sick at heart as I thus realized more clearly the weary journey.

It was always close at hand, a black shadow from whose presence I could not escape. I visited the priest's garden, climbed the rocks overlooking the water and even ventured into the dark forest but he was ever beside me, subtle but insistent on doing his master's will. The only glimpse I had of D'Artigny was at a distance, for not once did he approach the mission house. So I was glad enough when the canoes were ready and all preparations made for departure.

Yet we were not destined to escape this ally from St Ignace. Of what occurred I must write as it happened to me then and not as it full significance became later clear to my understanding. It was after midnight when Cassion returned to the mission house. The lights were burning on the table, and the three priests were rather impatiently waiting their evening meal, occasionally exchanging brief sentences, or peering out through the open window toward the dark water.

Cassion came in alone, yet I observed nothing strange about his appearance except that he failed to greet me with the usual attempt at gallantry, although his sharp eyes swept over mine as he closed the door, and stared about the room.

"What! not enter yet?" he exclaimed. "I anticipated my rate to be a lonely meal, for the reason worked like snail, and I would not leave them rest until all was finished. Faith, the odor is appetizing, and I am hungry as a bear."

The younger priest waved his hand to the servant yet asked softly, "Monsieur Chevret—he is delayed also?"

"He will sup with his men tonight," returned Cassion shortly, sending himself on the bench. "The sergeant keeps guard of the canoes and Chevret will be useful with those off duty."

The main ate as though nearly famished his ready tongue unusually silent, and at the conclusion of the meal, appeared so fatigued that I made early excuse to withdraw so he might rest in comfort, climbing the ladder in one corner to my own bed beneath the eaves. This apartment, whose only advantage was privacy, was no more than a narrow space between the sloping rafters of the roof, unadorned, but with a small window in the end, closed by a wooden shutter. A partition of axe-hewn planks divided this attic into two compartments, thus composing the priests' sleeping chambers. While I was there they both occupied the one to the south, Cassion, Chevret and Pere Allouez resting in the main room below.

As I lowered the trap in the door, shutting out the murmur of voices, I was conscious of no desire to sleep, my mind busily occupied with possibilities of the morrow. I opened the window and seated myself on the floor gazing out at the night. Below extended the priest's garden, and beyond the dark gloom of forest depths. This way of access was easy—a mere step to the flat roof of the kitchen, the disheveled logs of which afforded a ladder to the ground. I had no ob-

He moved cautiously, yet so slowly enough, and his movements were not those of an Indian, although the low bushes between us and the house shadow, prevented my distinguishing more than his mere outline. It was only when he lifted his head into the gleam of light and took hasty survey through the window of the scene with in, that I recognized the face of D'Artigny. He lingered scarcely a moment, evidently satisfied with what he saw, and then drew silently back, hesitating a brief space, as though debating his next movement.

I waited breathless wondering what his purpose could be, half inclined to intercept and question him. Was he seeking to serve my cause? to learn the truth of my relationship with Cassion? or did he have some other object, some personal feud in which he sought revenge? The first thought sent the warm blood leaping through my veins the second left me shivering as it with sudden chill.

Even as I stood, hesitating uncertain, he turned and retraced his steps along the same path of his approach, pausing me not ten steps away and vanishing into the wood. I thought he paused at the edge and bent down before I found voice or determination to stop him he had disappeared. My courage returned, spurred by curiosity. Why should he take so roundabout a way to reach the shore? What that black, shapeless thing he had paused to examine? I could see something there dark and motionless though to my eyes no more than a shadow.

I ventured toward it, creeping behind the bushes bordering the path, conscious of an odd fear as I drew closer. Yet it was not until I emerged from the fringe of shrubbery that even the faintest conception of what the object was I saw occurred to me. Then I stopped, frozen by horror, for I confronted a dead body.

For an instant I could not utter a sound or move a muscle of my body. My hands clung convulsively to a nearby branch, thus supporting me in spite of trembling limbs and I stared at the gruesome object black and almost shapeless in the moonlight. Only part of the trunk was visible, the lower portion concealed by bushes, yet I could no longer doubt it was a man's body—a large, heavily built man, his head still crushed on his head but with face turned away.

What courage overcame my horror and urged me forward I cannot tell, I seemed impelled by some power not my own, a vague fear of recognition tugging at my heart. I crept nearer, almost inch by inch, trembling at every noise, dreading to discover the truth. At last I could perceive the ghastly features—the dead man was Hugh Chevret.

I nerved myself to the effort, and turned the body sufficiently to enable me to discover the wound—he had been pierced by a knife from behind, and fallen, no doubt without uttering a cry, dead ere he struck the ground. Then it was murder, foul murder, a blow in the back. Why had the deed been done? What spirit of revenge or hatred, or fear could have led to such an act? I got again to my feet staring about through the weird moonlight, every nerve throbbing as I thought to grip the fact and find its cause. Slowly I drew back shrinking in growing terror from the corpse, until I was safely in the priest's garden. There I paused irresolute, my dazed, numbed brain beginning to grasp the situation and assert itself.

Misery in Back, Headache and Pain in Limbs.

Dear Mr. Editor—For more than a year I suffered with misery in the back, full headache, pain in the limbs, was somewhat constipated and slept poorly at night until I was about ready to collapse. Seeing an account of the wonderful qualities of "Anurog," prepared by Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., I sent for a box, and before using the whole box I felt and still feel improved. My sleep is refreshing, misery reduced, and life is not the drag it was before. I most cheerfully recommend this remedy to sufferers from like ailments. Yours truly, W. A. ROBERTS.

NOTE: You've all undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists of Dr. Pierce's Medical Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles. Up to this time, "Anurog" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing tablet, Dr. Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of this country within immediate reach of all sufferers. I know of one or two leading drug stores in town who have been urged to procure a supply of "Anurog" for their anxious customers in and around this locality. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment. ERROR—Please insert this letter in some conspicuous place in your paper.

We put it up to Hundreds of Dentists

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed SENRECO to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleansing qualities and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested SENRECO from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said:

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen." "I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used." "I can recommend Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleansing qualities and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested SENRECO from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—"

With such endorsements from the men who know, why not go to your dealer today and get a tube of SENRECO—25c. Keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN, and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay.

A copy of the folder, "The General Disease in the World" together with a liberal trial size tube of SENRECO will be mailed you for 4c in stamps. The Santalini Remedies Co., Inc., Dept. B, Masonic Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio.

ONE OF NEW YORK'S BEST BANDS TO BE HERE FOR CONCERT

Fifth Day of Chautauqua to Bring Stellar Musical Organization.

ARCADIANS ON SIXTH DAY

Highly Praise Women's Musical Organization, Under Leadership of the Celebrated Miss Dorothy Daniels, to be One of the Big Numbers.

One of the best known bands of New York city—the home of all that is newest and best in the fields of music and entertainment—will be heard here on the fifth day of the Chautauqua. This is the New York City Concert Band which played in many of New York's leading public parks and was the sensation of big conventions and other noted gatherings throughout the east, during the time that it was the Giovanni Bottegini, leader of the band, is one of the foremost musicians in the country. He was for 20 years the director of the well-known Band of the Hotel de Ville, an organization with which he toured the world and won an international reputation. In the personnel of the New York City Concert Band will be found many of the leading artists of this former brilliant organization.

The repertoire of the New York City Concert Band is practically unlimited ranging from the latest popular airs rendered in the spightly snappy manner so characteristic of Italian bands, to the favorite gems of classical and operatic history. The members of the New York City Concert Band are soloists of ability, and will be heard alone in many delightful numbers, as well as in duets, quartets and sextets and stirring ensemble numbers.

Another musical company fully as delightful as the New York City Concert Band is the Arcadians, a group of talented young women who will be heard on the sixth day of the Chautauqua. In Arcadia—the phantom-land from which the brilliant company takes its name, all is supposed to be melody and harmony certainly does prevail when the six young ladies composing the company step upon the platform. In this company has been amalgamated the finest musical talent to be found on the Chautauqua platform. Singing is only one of the attainments of the Arcadians. Each is a brilliant instrumentalist as well as being the finest piper, violinist and pianist, with the mezzo, alto and tenor to lend pleasing variety to the whole. Then, too, the Arcadians are entertainers whose resources are apparently inexhaustible. With all the ability of symphony men they play an overture followed by a part song rendered with that discrimination and unusual ability. Then maybe will come a fol-de-rol Dutch song, a rollicking ditty or a humorous song, so that it is memorable for its quantity and cleverness. Few companies possess the snap, originality and talent of this capable organization and their program, from first to last, is an unceasing, incessantly changing stream of mirth, melody and entertainment.

Particular interest will be attached to the playing of Dorothy Daniels, director of the company, who has achieved great success because of her beautiful voice and splendid talent on the violin. Miss Daniels possesses those native endowments, so seldom found, that make for the success of both a musician and entertainer and is worthy to be the guiding star for such a unique and artistic company as the Arcadians.

But the Arcadians are only one of many interesting numbers to be found on the Chautauqua program—each as brilliant and able as its own particular field. On the opening day come Dunbar's Soiree Singers with a popular and inspirational lecture, followed on the second day by the Tschakowsky String Quartet and Dr. Frederic Poole, authority on China. The third day's program will be notable because of the appearance of the Westminster Choir together with James Hoffman Dutton, who will speak on "The Pathfinder of Democracy." On the fourth day Hon. Antonio de la Garza, himself a Mexican, will discuss "What's Wrong With Mexico?" The Weltering Male Quartet will also be heard on the fourth day, as will Mrs. Josephine Chilton southern melodramatist. In addition to these numbers come Mawson's Anacretic pictures, Miss Evelyn Bargel crayon lecturer, John Kendrick Bangs, author and humorous lecturer, and the great trio of renowned musicians, Mme. Dora De Philippe, prima donna of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, Donald McKeith, Australian violinist, and Arthur Fiedler, accompanist, a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She Was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sanative Wash I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

If there is any peculiarity in your case requiring special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for free advice.

Dirty Bread

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene
by Samuel O. Dixon, M. D.,
LL. D., Commissioner of Health.

Even should the process of making and baking of bread be sanitary the loaves are often far from being clean when they reach the consumer. It is frequently loaded into containers for the delivery wagon by hands that have just swept the stable cuttle and harnessed the horse.

Carrots, the driver may divide his time between the dexterous handling of the dirty reins or the smoking of a pipe or cigar. The contents of his wagon he delivers from house to house and from shop to shop with hands besmeared with dirt from the stable horse harness and mud on dust from the road.

If he cannot carry enough bread in his gorm laden hands he takes a loaf under each arm. The bread that is delivered to the corner grocery may pass through two or three sets of hands before it reaches the children's mouths.

If a servant were to stick a finger in a dish that was being served you would vehemently protest but 10 times the carelessness in the handling of your family's bread supply is passed without thought. If you have any doubt as to the accuracy of the observations noted above make some of your own and imagine the danger of the transmission of disease.

No other food is more subject to contamination from handling than the "staff of life."
